To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing this letter of recommendation on behalf of Mr. Kevin Kent. I have known Mr. Kent for the past three years at John F. Kennedy High School where I have been employed as Assistant Principal of the ESL and Foreign Language Department. During this time I have witnessed on many occasions his ability to engage students in project-based learning and assessment integrating technology, science, and literacy skills. Struggling readers especially appreciated the hands-on activities based on discovery learning designed by Mr. Kent. In May 2007, Mr. Kent's multifaceted web page that integrated literacy, Science, and technology was displayed at the Region One Literacy Fair.

In addition to being an exemplary teacher, Mr. Kent has always been willing to be the keynote presenter at our school-wide professional development sessions. In June, 2007, Mr. Kent presented a much needed workshop that demonstrated how to integrate technology and project-based learning and assessment. The entire staff increased their knowledge of computer-assisted learning exponentially by Mr. Kent's clear explanations and applications to literacy and content.

I highly recommend Mr. Kent to any program for which he applies. He is one of the most talented and compassionate teachers I have ever met during my 25 years in the field of education.

Sincerely,

Mary Higgins
